If you have a negative attitude, that means you care more about what people think than what you think. If you are not good at dealing with things, you may find it difficult to deal with a negative attitude. If you have a positive attitude, you are not influenced by the opinions of other people. People who have a positive attitude say, "Oh, it's not so bad" or "Things happen for a reason." How can you have a positive attitude? To have a positive attitude, you must believe that good things are happening in your life, and bad things do not last forever. You can focus your attention and energy on things that are already good in your life. You must be able to see the good things before they happen, so you can do something about them. For example, if you are worrying about an examination coming up and feeling stressed, you may try to relax. You can even have a cup of tea or take a walk outside if you want. When you worry too much about bad things, that can be very unhealthy. You can look at the positive side of a problem. You can get up in the morning and look for the good
