Printing easy is going to be much easier in Macs with the new generation of printers released by Epson. They are able to print photographs or posters in a matter of minutes, without any manual intervention. The lightweight Epson DNP-X200U can use photographs, photographs, image, and image files, as well as microfilm. The size of the finished print is also adjustable, from the 4x6 up to the 48x60. Full use of your photos The DNP-X200U has the ability to print images that are stored in a Mac file. Because it is able to print slides as well, users can also go digital to make a perfect poster. And they can set up the image with either black or white, plus some of the most popular sizes. In addition, users can print multiple copies. The optional VGA input gives them the ability to set up their own print templates. Easy to operate The DNP-X200U comes with an easy to use interface. It has two paper trays: one to print the printed images, and one for the setup and loading of the printer. Once the configuration has been done, the printer can be put to work immediately. Using this printer with the iPad Epson has made sure that it is able to get a perfect image using the iPad. It can use it as an electronic sketchbook, even with 3G connections. The DNP-X200U can be used as an iPhoto printer with the iPad. It can also be directly connected to it. Users can print multiple copies with the help of the software that they have on their iPad. And, there is no need to print them in the computer as they do it on the iPad. Scan QR Code or enter link to download Screen Monkey. 1.16 MB Screen Monkey Screen Monkey is a Windows application that gives you the possibility to easily toggle various kinds of media and view files in full screen on any monitor plugged into your computer. It offers support for MPEG, AVI and WMV file types, among others. Simple setup and interface Installing this app is a fast and simple job that shouldn't impose any difficulties. Administrative rights are required. It's wrapped in a user-friendly interface made from a large window that shows the dashboard which allows you to create as many pages as you want. Add, manage and customize media clips Each page can be populated with multiple clips of various types, such as audio, clone, color, Flash, freeze (the current monitor output), image, text card, text, effect generator, screensaver, scribble, DVD clip, PowerPoint presentation, ticker tape, as well as live audio, video or stream. You can rename clips, edit their properties, add transitions and effects, manage multiple layers and views, swap media, export clip templates to import them later, cut, copy and paste clips, repair all of them, as well as create links at the start or end of the clip, by looping it or setting a timer, and so on. The software utility lets you indicate the preferred monitor with a customized color to output media to, use images to show place holders on the monitor, plug in a live video camera to stream on the second monitor, as well as use keyboard shortcuts on a global level to display clips from any desktop environment. Evaluation and conclusion No error messages popped up in our tests, and the tool didn't hang or crash. It left a small footprint on system resources, running on low CPU and RAM. Unfortunately, it's not very intuitive for less experienced users. Nevertheless, Screen Monkey comes packed with handy options to help you project various media on multiple monitors. 1.15 MB Screen Monkey Description: Scan QR Code or enter link to download Screen Monkey.
